This Tribute To Fans is to all those that came to watch and to support the Humphrey Bulldogs during the 1984-85 activity season.

Without the great support of the fans, the activities in which the athletes participated in would be nothing. On behalf of the many athletes that were a part of the Bulldogs, we thank you.

Jim Stanek- Presidential Scholarship to Wayne State College. Kevin Ternus-Financial Aid Achievement Award for High School Involvement in Athletics from Midland College.

Senior Class Wills

I, Sheri Babel, will to my sister Lori the ability to dress like me and then have people ask you if you are competing with Mr. Irwin; to Glenda, the ability to stay sober until at least 11:00; and to Gaylene, all my friendship forever, because you are my bestest friend; and to Joe, all my love forever; and the best of luck to the Senior Class.

I, Gary Bender, being of eccentric mind and sound body, will to Ron Chaulk my motor vehicle. I hope you get as many non-starts, flat tires and broken taillights out of it as I did; to the entire student body, I will the warmth and companionship of my special friend, Ron Denkinger, who will always keep you on the right track, usually one leading to the Platte County Courthouse; to Mike Hanzel, a rawhide flyswatter for computer class, a great big one; to Jim Stanek, a year's supply of new and improved sunflower seeds; to all my fellow seniors, good luck, and to the faculty, another unusual class to come along such as this one of 1985. It's been fun!

I, Glenda Brandt, will to Gaylene Zach, the ability not to get scared, the CARS' tape, and never to forget the good times; to Sheri Babel and Becky Gronenthal, some potato chips and a bag; to Shana Sliva, the ability to come over at 4:00 in the morning and to stay overnight anytime she wants to; to Tracy Fuxa, a helping hand in the kitchen every now and then; to Gary Bender, an extra locker so he has room for his stuff; to Teresa Ternus, the ability to know what she's going to do; to Debbie Veik, a new pair of shoes; to Mark Jarosz, all the love and happiness forever.

I, Ron Chaulk, will to Gary Bender, a crash helmet and seat belts for his NEW car; to Tim Baumgart, the ability to snap the football over the punter's head; to any junior, a shoulder available to lean on. I will to Jim Stanek, some sunflower seeds and a bird house so he can be set for another year. I wish all the seniors the best of luck in the future and lastly, to Curt Brand, to have 86 words in his, since I have 85.

I, Jeff Frauendorfer, will to Dennis Martensen, a dictionary and a spelling book so he can learn how to spell. I will to Jim Gronenthal a pair of boxing gloves for Dennis. I will to Mr. Rumsey a wall in his class so he can't be disturbed. I will to Kevin Ternus a pair of handcuffs so when it comes to playing basketball, he can't shoot the ball all the time.

I, Rebecca S. Gronenthal, will to Teresa Ternus and Bob Ottis, the willpower to leave the For Sale signs in their proper place; to Shana Sliva, three of my best turtle necks; to Curt Brand, the ability to win at the game "Strawberry"; to Lynn Gronenthal, my leadership and patience, ha!; to Cindy Brandl, the ability to go an hour without talking more than five thousand words; to Tina Fuxa, the ability to talk to "Sexy Legs" instead of just looking; and last but not least, to my best friend Debbie, I will the luck to you with that special someone.

I, Jim Gronenthal, will to Randy Gronenthal, the ability to keep the good times going in Miss Lingenfelter's classes; and to Scott Weidner, never lose the ability to drive all study hall teachers crazy; to all the people in band, to keep Mr. Yates in a good mood.

I, Mike Hanzel, being of sound mind and body, will to Curt Brand the ability to grow hair on his face; to Gary Bender, the ability not to be stopped by Officer Denkenger while driving through town; to Mr. Rumsey, the ability to not get lost while going to contests or coming home from Kansas City, especially in North Omaha; to the computer class, the ability to get another day to work on assignments from Miss Heitzman.

I, Mark Jarosz, will to Tim Baumgart, the ability to remember when your birthday is and to have someone do all your assignments; to Vince Dohmen, the ability to keep pumping iron when I'm gone; to Tim Pernicek, the ability to go hunting without getting lost and to keep your license; to Ron Chaulk, the ability to drink more apple and strawberry juice; to Jim Stanek, the ability to learn how to fly; to Gaylene Zach, the ability to find her way around Madison and to learn how to drive a 3-wheeler better; to Ron Zach, the ability to go turkey hunting and to fall asleep in a boat; to Glenda Brandt, the ability to learn how to jump fences and all my love.

I, Keith Labenz, will Mr. Rumsey a tablet of notebook paper, since I always borrowed his; to Scott Rosenthal, a bottle of white-out for the typing he did on his English papers; to next year's Senior Class, the ability to get through American Government by mostly watching the VCR; and to anyone who wants to add a little excitement in their life, the ability to have your car start on fire while driving down main street in Norfolk on a Saturday night.

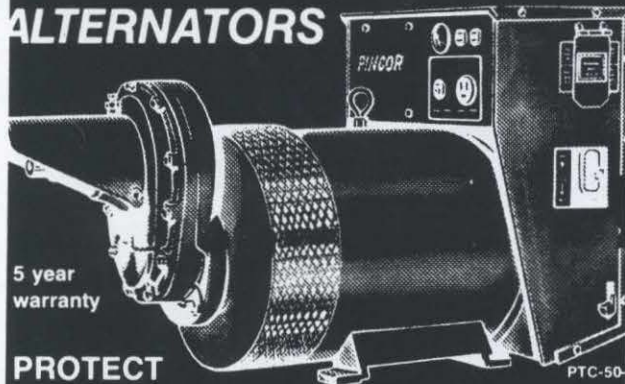

I, Scott Rosenthal, will to Angie, a new house with a swimming pool, hot tub, sun room, and plenty of bedrooms for her kids. To Tina Fuxa, who knows all about whoregrass, I will something to do for Mr. Rumsey; to Mr. Yates, a bakery so he doesn't have to buy his donuts any more; to Maynard, a new girlfriend, to my fairy best friend, Curt Brand, I will my husband. When I die at the age of 20, I will all my worthy possessions to Michelle Tomaszewicz, and Joan Wemhoff; to the cooks, a big empty bowl of peanut butter; and finally, to TOO TALL, a pair of extra high-heeled shoes.

I, Shana Sliva, will to Tim Pernicek, that which was willed to Jeff Zach to Glen Weidner to Vicki Alderson, then to me, the ability to get home by 12:00 because that's what time Mom has dinner ready; to Sandy Sjuts, the ability to forget something of value during volleyball and basketball season; to Sharri and Jodi, which was willed to me by Cindy Krigs, the Budweiser Brewing Company. May it bring them all the trouble I had the first three years of high school. Lastly, I will all the happiness to the people who have made my life and the last year at H.H.S. much more enjoyable than the first three years.

I, Gaylene Zach, will to Sheri Babel, all my friendship because you are my "bestest" friend; to Glenda Brandt, the CAR'S tape and my sleeping partner back and also remember all the good times we've had; to my two brothers, Pete and Rod, the ability to remember my name when they see me in the hall; to Angie Hastreiter, Michelle Chaulk and Kerry Kallweit, the ability to burn down the house; to Mark Jarosz, a quick trip to Madison to pick something up at the "Brass Buckle" and also the ability to find a way to start a 3-wheeler when the starter is turned off. To save the best for last, I would like to wish the class of '85 best of luck in the years to come.
